

Nomination Guideline & Criteria

The Mississippi Hospitality & Restaurant Association (MHRA) is calling for nominations for its annual MHRA Hall of Fame.

Nominations should exemplify dedication, leadership, and commitment to the restaurant and food service industry in Mississippi. Nominees must have a record of sharing their time and talents to enrich the industry and their community

Nominate them for the MHRA's 2018 Hall of Fame.

The MHRA Hall of Fame celebrates the accomplishments of outstanding restaurateurs, leaders and chefs who have made lasting, substantial and distinctive contributions to the restaurant and food service industry in Mississippi.

These contributions demonstrate leadership and vision and are widely recognized in local, national, or international communities.

Categories include:

Restaurateur

Associate

Legacy Restaurant

Activities may take the form of:

Leadership in restaurant and food service institutions or organizations,
Advancing the restaurant and food service industry in community settings, and
Volunteering time and talent in support of the restaurant and food service industry, through civic, philanthropic or educational activities.

Members of the Hall of Fame include those who have:

Contributed to the enhancement of the image and quality of the restaurant and food service industry in Mississippi,
Provided service to the industry through civic, philanthropic or educational outreach, and Demonstrated dedication and commitment to the growth of the industry.

The honorees will be celebrated at a special induction ceremony on October 1, 2018
